Will Serve Willingly As a Private.

LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 5.—William Jennings Bryan Thursday last issued the following statement:

"The election has gone against us by a decisive majority. The returns are not all in and it is impossible at the present time to analyze them or to say what causes contributed most to the Republican victory.

"We made our fight upon a platform which embodied what we believe to be good for the American people, but it is for the people themselves to decide what laws they desire and what methods of government they prefer.

"I have faith that the publicity for which we asked will yet command itself to the American people; that the election of Senators by the people will be secured; that the iniquities of the trusts will arouse an opposition that will result in the elimination of the principle of private monopoly.

"I am confident that the people will see the necessity for labor legislation and the tariff reduction which our platform demanded. I am confident, too, that the educational work done in this campaign will result in securing greater protection to bank depositors."

"The above are the most important reforms for which we labored, and I believe that these reforms will yet come, together with more effective regulation of railroad and independence for the Filipinos.

"I desire to commend the work of our National Committee. I am entirely satisfied with Mr. Mack as the chairman, and with the members of the committee. I do not see what they could have done more than they did, and as for myself, I put forth every effort in my power to secure victory for our cause.

"The nomination came from the hands of the voters. I have obeyed their command and have led as best I could. Words will not express my gratitude for the devotion which has been shown by millions of Democrats during the last 12 years.

"Neither can I adequately express my appreciation for the kind words which have been spoken since the election. If I could regard the defeat as purely a personal one, I would consider it a blessing rather than a misfortune, for I am relieved of the burdens and responsibilities of an office that is attractive only in proportion as it gives an opportunity to render a larger public service.

"But I shall serve as willingly in a private capacity as in a public one. God does not require great things of us. He only requires that we improve the opportunities for service presented, and I shall be glad to improve the opportunities for service presented by private life.

"In this hour of national defeat I find some consolation in the cordial support given by my neighbors, by the citizens of Lincoln and by the people of the State of Nebraska. With a Democratic Governor and a Democratic Legislature we shall be able to put into practice so much of the Denver platform as relates to State legislation, and I trust that our State will set an example that will be an influence for good in the nation."

HUBBLE.

Jas. A. Bratton, Sr., our beloved friend and good citizen, at the age of 65 years, passed out of this life into the great beyond Saturday morning between 4 and 5 o'clock, Nov. 7. He was one of the few old Confederate soldiers now living and had been declining very rapidly for the last few months, but on account of his great energy and wonderful nerve he kept going till the last. He went to the election and voted for W. J. Bryan and the remainder of the ticket, visited his son near Marksburg, and came home on the evening of the 6th where he had been living for several years with his son, R. G. Bratton, who is one of the good citizens of this community. He was alive at 4 o'clock the morning of his death and asked the family if it was cloudy. After the early morning work was done and breakfast ready, he was called as usual, but did not respond. He had been suffering for some time with nervous trouble, but was not able to rally from his last attack. He was brave, courageous, kind hearted, always speaking and contending for what he thought was right. He leaves three children, R. G. Bratton, of this community, Jas. A. Bratton, of Marksburg, and Mrs. Susie Meighan, of Louisville, to mourn his departure, and a host of friends to sympathize with them and miss him in this life. At two o'clock Sunday afternoon, after being followed by many friends and met by a host of others in the Lancaster cemetery, after appropriate services by Rev. Brown, in which the few old soldiers took part, his body was consigned to its last resting place.

An Old Democrat Talks About Old Times.

My mind drifts back to by-gone days, well do I remember the election of 1876. I was at Albany, Ga. When the news came that the great ticket of Tilden and Hendricks had been elected, our people went wild, for it was the first time that the people of the South had seen the sun shine politically since the great Robert E. Lee had turned his sword over to Grant and Johnson had turned his over to Sherman. Two of the greatest commanders the world had ever known had to go down in defeat.

The old party had to pick its flint and try it over. Let every county and district put up its ablest and best men. Well do I remember after Mr. Clay's death the old Whig party was lead by Crittenden, Bell, Hardin, Dunlap and Davis. The old democratic party was led by Breckinridge, Stevenson, Powell, Magoffin and Beck; all of these were great and mighty men, able to cope with any men from any State. Old Kentucky still has some fine men of the old school. We have Lindsay, McCrae, Breckinridge and that able jurist, Judge Saufley, all able, true and tried men as ever went on a battle field. Of our younger men we have John R. Allen, Harvey Helm, W. J. Price and many others. Let these men come to the front.

I remember in 1868, the carpet bag days, of seeing a full Legislature in Tallahassee, Fla., of Negroes, and in 1876 of seeing two Legislatures in New Orleans, one white and the other Negroes. I was in Atlanta shortly after the war and saw that city in ruins and ashes that Sherman had burned and left for women and children to weep over. I have traveled through every Southern State since the war and God in heaven only knows what those brave people have suffered. Let the old party be true to its principles and put up its very best men for office as it has in by-gone days. You will see the old party come to the front once more. You now have a fine young man in the Legislature. Keep him there. Boyle county once sent such men as Anderson, Talbot, Bell, Hoskins and others. Fayette sent her Clays, Breckinridges, Hunts and others, all great men. Lincoln had her Bailey, Varnon, Owsley and others, and old Garrard had her Dunlap, Burdett and others. Old Madison had her Turner, McCreary, Smith Little and others. These were all able, true and tried men and could serve their country in any capacity. Now let us put up our best men in every county and district and victory will waive on our banner once more, if not, we will go down in defeat as we did a year ago. I would like to see Judge Saufley go to the U. S. Senate. His term in office would about round out the old Confederate soldier's career. Ask Bob Porter if he remembers the skirmish Scott's Confederate Cavalry had in front of his house in '63 and how I had to lay in the fence corner with Mr. Dillhey to keep from being killed.

I guess every one remembers Peagram's raid in the winter of '63, when he burned the old bridge at Dix river, where Beazley was murdered.

BRECKINRIDGE DEMOCRAT.

When asked if he would request a requisition for Taylor and Finley in case Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin demanded it, now that Governor Marshall, Democrat, is elected, Gov. Wilson replied: "We will take up the Taylor and Finley matter in regular order of business, and consider those cases just like we would any other cases. Further than this I do not care to make a statement."

If you suffer from constipation and liver trouble Foley's Orino Laxative will cure you permanently by stimulating the digestive organs so they will act naturally. Foley's Orino Laxative does not gripe, is pleasant to take and you do not have to take laxatives continually after taking Orino. New Stanford Drug Co.

Charles W. Morse was sentenced to serve 15 years in the Atlanta penitentiary. Judge Hough, in the Federal Court at New York, acted on the jury's recommendation in Alfred H. Curtis' case, and suspended sentence. Morse has not given up, but from his cell in the Tombs has directed his attorneys to fight to the bitter end. An appeal will be taken.

Watched Fifteen years.

"For fifteen years I have watched the working of Bucklen's Arnica Salve; and it has never failed to cure any sore, boil, ulcer of burn to which it was applied. It has saved us many a doctor bill," says A. F. Hardy, of East Wilton, Maine. 25c. at Penny's Drug Store.

A California jeweler has made a pair of scales so delicate that they register the difference in weight of a living fly and after it has been killed.

Republican and Socialist delegates to the American Federation of Labor meeting at Denver are expected to criticize adversely the course of Samuel Gompers and the executive board in the recent campaign, but it is not believed that they will be able to muster enough strength to prevent a decisive vote in favor of a continued vigorous political policy.

Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Curtis were found guilty by a jury in the United States Circuit Court in New York City of falsifying the books of the National Bank of North America and of misappropriation of the funds of the bank. The verdict covers a total of 54 counts. The jury in returning its verdict recommended Curtis to the mercy of the court, in view of the assistance given by him to the District Attorney and the fact that he was generally believed to have been influenced by Morse.

A Handsome Premium Free.

The Christian Herald (a weekly visitor to many people in this locality) is this year giving free to every new and renewing subscriber a most attractive gift, which is very appropriately called "The Art Gallery De Luxe." It consists of six famous paintings, superbly reproduced in 14 colors, aggregating 1,000 square inches. The artist catches the glint of the sunbeams through orchard trees and makes them dance and gleam on canvas. But how can we paint in mere words the beauty of these six exquisite pictures? A handsomer premium was never offered by any magazine.

Probably no comment is necessary concerning The Christian Herald, "The Magazine that Fully Satisfies," as it is only the best in literature and art is presented and every one of its 52 issues, the whole year around, sparkles with gems from cover to cover. The Christian Herald contains 1,200 large pages and 1,000 illustrations yearly—such as many four $1 magazines.

Since Kate has took a college course I'm viewin' with alarm
The way she's fixin' everything

A feller has to walk on eggs
To keep his feet up there.

There ain't no parlor anymore,
It's "drawin' room," by cat!

A funeral in that.
